

I pay for phone service and should have the right to block unwanted and annoying calls. If my phone service was free, it would be different.